Drop 2 Cops, One Fireman City Acts to Meet Cost Of Minimum Salary Law

A shuffle in the Dixon police and fire department forces was announced today by C. L. Ballard, commissioner of public health and safety.

In accord with the city's attempt to economize in meeting the state's mandatory minimum wage law for firemen and policemen, two policemen and a fireman were dropped from the city payroll.

Ballard said Dixon Police Officers William Boehme and E. M. Smallwood were discharged effective today. Also laid off is Ralph Stonecker of the fire department. Boehme and Stonecker were taken off the payroll as a direct result of city council action Tuesday night calling for the reduction. Smallwood was "bumped" when E. T. Trotter, merchant policeman and city patrolman came on the force as a regular member. He holds seniority over Smallwood.

The council repealed all ordinances Tuesday calling for a merchant policeman including the $75 a month salary for his services. According to Dixon Police Chief Frank Tyne, Dewey Gilbert, substitute policeman during the vacation season, will take over the merchant police job on Sept. 1, minus the $75 usually paid by the city.

Big Typhoon Veers, May Miss Huge American Base

NAHA, Okinawa — A howling Pacific typhoon veered slightly tonight and weather experts said this huge American base may escape the full fury of the storm.

Lt. Jim Wolff of the Okinawa Air Base Communications Center said the storm—one of the worst ever to churn through the Western Pacific—veered slightly to the south late today.

"If it remains on its present course its center may pass to the south of Okinawa," Wolff said. "We'll know by 9 a.m. Sunday (6 p.m. Saturday CST)."

The big storm was centered about 200 miles from Okinawa at 3 p.m.

The typhoon, generating winds of 138 miles an hour, is moving northwesterly at 10 m.p.h. toward Wenchow, a Communist China port about 230 miles south of Shanghai. Wolff said he believed the cen-

Hammer-Wieler Charged With Intent to Murder

Mrs. Schwank's Assailant Says He Can't Explain Jailer Attack

A warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder was issued Friday by Justice of the Peace Lawrence Boos, Dixon, against Rudolph Kessler, 31, of Rt. 3, Dixon, following his short-lived Lee county jail break Thursday night in which he severely beat Mrs. Esther Schwank, woman jailer.

Kessler previously had been held in the county jail on a parole violation order of Sterling Schrock, Dixon, district parole officer. The prisoner was paroled from Joliet penitentiary after serving 5 years and 11 months on two concurrent sentences for issuing fictitious checks.

Reported "Good" Mrs. Schwank, reported in good condition today at KSB hospital, suffered multiple lacerations about the head during her struggle for life in Kessler's attempt to escape. Although he admitted in a signed statement he had planned the jail break for some time, Kessler was unable to account for his actions immediately after his recapture.

Apprehended within an hour after his break for freedom, Kessler told his captors, Dixon Police Sgt. E. M. Kelchner and Officer A. R. Wilson, he "didn't know" what made him beat his jailer.

According to Sgt. Kelchner, who first spotted the fugitive heading south on the Illinois Central railroad tracks near the Bloody Gulch road, southwest of Dixon, he asked Kessler what made him pull such a stunt.

Find's Hammer Kessler said he had been thinking about the break all day Thursday after he had found the hammer while sweeping the women's section of the jail where he was confined.

He could not account for grabbing Mrs. Schwank as she was bandaging his infected elbow, yanking her into the cell block, and striking her repeatedly on the head with the deadly weapon.

Kelchner said Kessler claimed he found himself suddenly swinging the hammer in an effort to get out of the jail.

He said he didn't know what he was going to do once he got out of the cell block and away on his short-lived escape.

UN Delegates Attempting to Patch U.S.-British Breach

British Say They'll Duck War Renewal

U. S. Opposing India, Soviet as Members Of Peace Delegation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The 16 nations that fought under the U. N. banner in Korea readied another try today at patching up British-United States differences over the proposed inclusion of India and the Soviet Union in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Delegates gathered at U. S. mission headquarters for their third private huddle on the issue only a few hours after the British government declared it was no committed to a renewal of the Korean War if the armistice were broken by any nation on the U. N. side.

Aimed at Three The declaration apparently was aimed at South Korean President Syngman Rhee, who told a mammoth rally in Seoul today that "it is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time" to achieve unification of divided Korea.

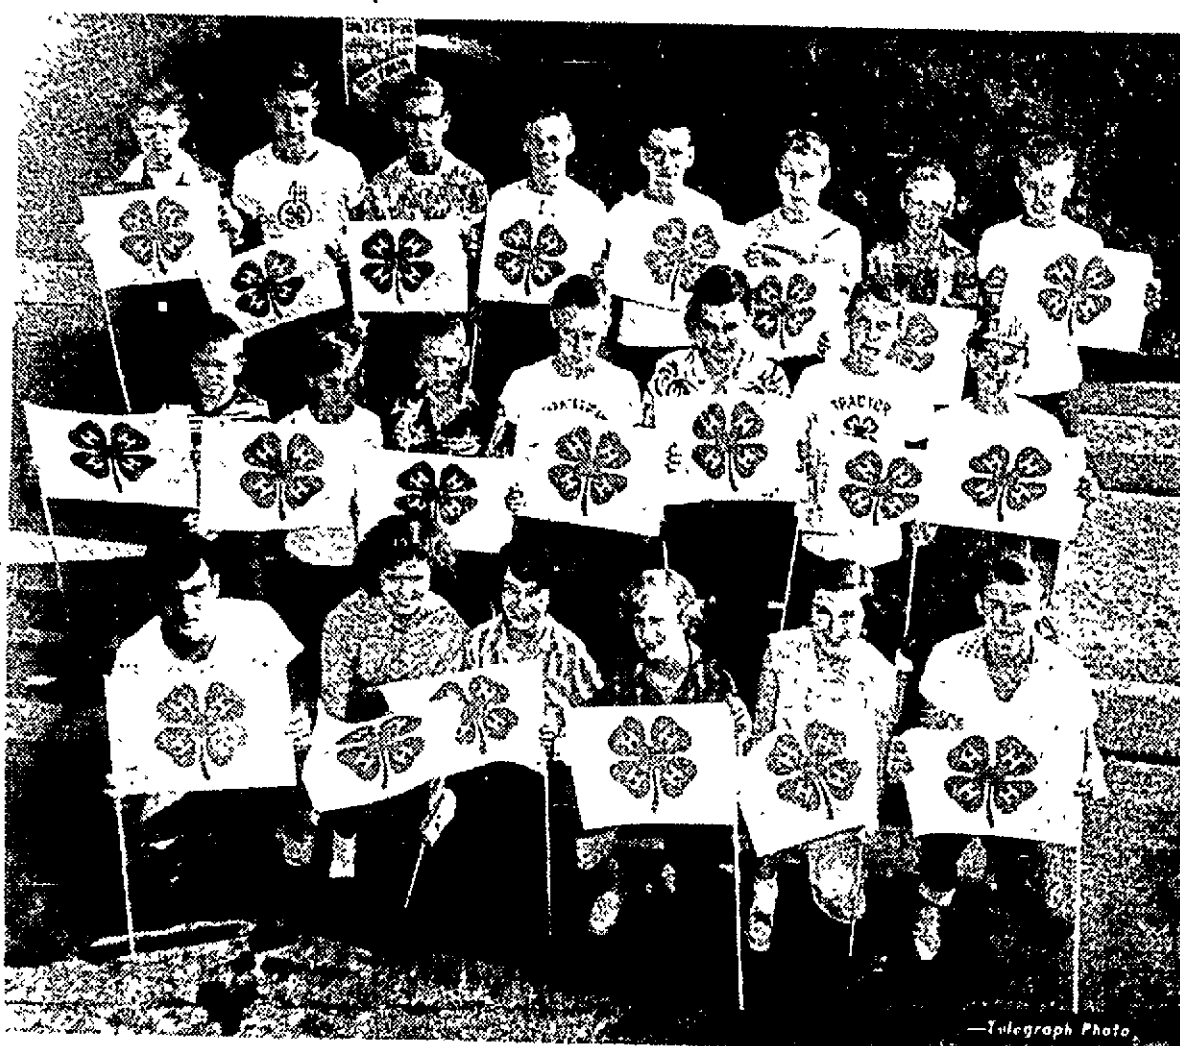

The British-American rift over the makeup of the political conference followed Britain's nomination of both Russia and India. The London government has maintained that if the world wants a real settlement Russia must be represented and it put forward India as a symbol of non-Communist Asia.

The United States has insisted that only countries which fought for the U. N. have the right to represent the international organization at the parley. It maintains this is the clear meaning of the armistice agreement.

The British reportedly were pre-

Lee, Ogle Farmers Vote For Control in Wheat Follow Trend of Nation In Balloting on Quotas

Lee and Ogle counties followed the trend of the nation Friday by accepting rigid controls on next year's wheat crop in return for continued high government price supports. In doing so they eased pressure on farm-belt Republican members of congress facing campaigns for reelection in 1954.

Incomplete but conclusive national returns show growers gave a top-heavy vote in the referendum, 338,751 to 51,487, for marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop.

In Lee county the vote was 41 to 10 in favor of quotas. Ogle voters gave the issue a 6 to 3 total, exactly the two-thirds needed for approval. Lee county had 70 eligible voters; Ogle 38.

State Rejects It However, Illinois as a whole rejected the idea of controls. The state failed to roll up the required majority by voting 13,810 to 8,161 in favor of the proposition.

The restrictions approved will cut production and sales about 20 per cent from this year's 10 per cent above normal crop.

The returns showed a favorable vote of 86.7 per cent—far above the 66 2/3 per cent required and the biggest proportion ever piled up in a wheat quota referendum.

The main issue in the nationwide balloting was next year's wheat prices. The difference in price resulting from approval or rejection of quotas could have been close to $1 a bushel, or perhaps one billion dollars on the whole crop.

See Recovery Inasmuch as market prices usually reflect support levels, rejected quotas could have meant a sharp drop in farm income in major wheat producing states at a time when many farm area Republican congressmen were seeking reelection next year.

In this connection, the quota approval was expected to bring further recovery in wheat prices in speculative markets. Quotations had dipped sharply late last week

10 Killed and 50 Hurt When Trains Crash

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Two British trains collided atop a viaduct 80 feet over the River Irk today, killing 10 passengers and injuring 50 others.

One coach somersaulted into the river bed, landing upside down. At least three persons were believed trapped in the coach.

Exactly how the collision occurred was not announced. The Ministry of Transport operates the government-owned rail lines.

French Strikes Ebb But Nation Fears New Outbreak

PARIS (AP)—The long, costly series of French strikes seemed today to be running out of steam. It was still too early to say when the work stoppages might end or that there would be no recurrence—but enthusiasm appeared to be waning.

No new walkouts were announced Friday, and a few small—but perhaps significant—breaks were appearing in the solid front the strikers put up the past week.

Although most of the demonstrators were still of their jobs, there was no way of estimating the real strike strength. Today is Assumption day, normally a holiday. The big test will come Monday and Tuesday, when the holiday weekend is over.

An increased number of subway trains operated in Paris today despite the holiday.

Reports from around the country indicated postal employees were returning to work under requisition orders by the government. Previously, the workers ignored these order despite the threat of penalties that went with them.

A Communist-led attempt to spread the strike among laborers as well as civil employees apparently has failed. Official sources estimated that two million persons actually quit work although strike calls went out to four million. The stoppage included workers in the postal, telegraph, telephone, gas and electric service as well as railroads and coal mines.

Government civil servants also left their jobs in the huge protest against Premier Joseph Laniel's economy decrees. The government measures designed to halt the drain on France's near-bankrupt treasury included upping the retirement age of civil servants and firing surplus government employees.

The government has made no move to give in or talk to any union leaders while the strikes go on.

ROK Leader Sees Parley As Failure

Talks to Thousands In Seoul; Unification Only Goal, He Says

SEOUL (AP)—Crack South Korean troops paraded through this battered capital today and President Syngman Rhee shouted his determination to "march north at the earliest possible time" as this war-shattered republic marked its fifth Independence Day.

In an address to thousands packed into Capitol Plaza Rhee reiterated that the post-armistice political conference has 90 days to unify Korea. And he predicted again that the conference will fail.

Unity Is Goal Rhee made it clear that unification is his goal.

"The one and only standard by which the success or failure of the political conference may be judged is whether it achieves this common objective," he declared.

Rhee said the armistice shifted the "battle of Korea" from a military to a political field but it still remains the crucial struggle to avoid World War III.

He spoke at a giant gathering in front of the war-scarred Capitol building. At least 100,000 South Koreans lined the streets and Capitol Plaza to hear the speech directly and over loudspeakers. Korean police estimates ranged as high as a half million.

Parade Night

After the speech, the Republic of Korea proudly paraded its military strength. Units from 16 ROK divisions marched smartly through the streets. Cadets from the army and naval academies joined the parade and a battalion of Korean Marines in full battle packs took a salute.

The small ROK Air Force sent 21 F51 Mustangs low over the parade.

Big guns, tanks, trucks, jeeps, ambulances and all the equipment of modern war passed the reviewing stand where Rhee stood surrounded by foreign dignitaries, including U.S. Ambassador to Korea Ellis O. Briggs and 8th Army commander Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

"It is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time to save our Korean brethren from the sure death they are facing today," Rhee declared.

"Share Life, Death" "We are destined to share with them life or death and we are fully aware that our mental attachment and official obligation to them hardly allows us to delay their ultimate salvation another few months."

Rhee strongly denounced any political "appeasement" of the Communists.

County Judge Wife, Escape French Strikes

County Judge Grover Gehant and Mrs. Gehant have escaped the crippling French strikes and arrived home from their European tour last night.

Their friends here were speculating whether the Dixon couple would be caught in the strike which is paralyzing French transportation facilities.

Judge Gehant said upon his arrival here he and his wife narrowly missed being stranded in Paris but an astute travel agent got them transportation on a British plane, manned by a British crew. French airlines were inoperative because of the tieup. They left Paris about 9:30 a.m. (French time) Thursday morning and arrived in London just in time to make connections with a New York-bound plane. The Gehants arrived in Chicago about 1:30 p.m. Friday and motored to Dixon.

Create Paris on Terrace; Salvage Table and Chairs

This gay and comfortable terrace, just right for summertime relaxing, is furnished with discarded pieces of furniture which have been brought up to date with the addition of paint, bright-colored canvas upholstery and minor carpentry. An old rocker was converted to the attractive chaise longue seen above, by extending the chair seat with plywood nailed to a heavier wood frame. A blue canvas skirt hides the carpentry. Another rocker was upholstered in chartreuse canvas. The end table, formerly an old laundry rack, has a matching green canvas-covered plywood top.

By KAY SHERWOOD

Fresh and jaunty as a Parisian sidewalk cafe is the pretty, summery setting for outdoor refreshment you can pull from the discard pile. Even if you put a high price on your time, the cost will still be very low.

Old kitchen chairs and a beat up wicker table, the kind which you can find going begging in almost any junk shop or second-hand store, are the raw materials. You achieve the Paris touch with white paint, plywood and a few yards of canvas in bright new colors like raspberry and chartreuse.

Don't be discouraged, as I have been up to now, by scarred warped tops most wicker tables have by the time they come to rest in the second-hand store. Canvas provides a gay and speedy camouflage. Glass protects the canvas.

If you want a smooth professional-looking job remove old paint from the table and chairs before you sand and repaint them. On the other hand if you're not too fussy, just sand the surface to dull the gloss and smooth the rough spots. Repaint over the old finish.

To fix up the table top, remove the rush border. Draw a paper pattern and cut the canvas circle an inch larger than the tracing. Stretch canvas across the top and tack it to the table edge. Put the rush border back on the table. Transparent glass for the top, cut to the exact size of the tracing, can be salvaged from an old mirror by removing silver from the mirror-back with a razor blade.

To put a padded seat on an old kitchen chair, make a pattern of the chair seat. Cut a plywood circle and cotton batting to size. Glue batting to the plywood. Canvas should be cut two inches larger than the pattern, then stretched over the plywood and glued to the underside. Tack the cushion down with colored metal-head nails.

A similar procedure will give you a cushioned back for the chair. Saw two pieces of plywood to fit the pattern of the chair-back. Pad one with batting glued in place and nail it to the front of the chair-back. Cover it with canvas which is pulled taut and tacked to the back of the chair. Canvas-cover the other piece of plywood and tack it to the exposed chair-back with colored metal-head nails.

If you want to convert a rocker to a chaise longue, you'll need a couple of 2x4's seven feet long. Small pieces of tin, heavy wrapping twine, and assorted nails and screws will be needed to repair fractured chair arms or legs.

To mend a break, you unwrap the rush until the wood is exposed, then wrap a piece of tin around the fracture. Screw tin to wood. Rewrap the wood with rush and heavy twine.

Make the chaise lounge by extending chair seat with plywood nailed to a frame made from 2x4's. First the lattice skirt is ripped off, rockers sawed off and legs evened up. Saw two lengths of wood the height of the chair seat, partially hollowing one side of each so that they will fit around the front legs where a stove bolt secures them to the chair. The sides and front of the extension frame are straight pieces of wood nailed together. Extra legs for the front of the extension may be cut from an old broom handle and nailed inside front corners.

To pad the seat, glue three layers of batting, which have been cut to fit and sewed together, to plywood. Scissor the canvas two inches longer and wider than the plywood and stretch it taut over the batting. Tack it to the seat with colored nails. Canvas-covered plywood and batting sized to fit the back and arms and nailed in place complete the upholstery.

For a skirt, split two-and-a-half yards of canvas lengthwise. Tack strips in place around chair and frame, folding into pleats at legs and front.

An old laundry rack with its taking crosspieces secured by nails takes its place on the terrace as a table. All that is needed here is a coat of paint and a plywood top to fit across the rungs. Half a yard of canvas to match the upholstery is folded lengthwise around plywood and glued underneath. With the top in place fold sides of canvas around wooden rungs and nail it in place.

Hole in Wall Accommodates Built-in Safe

A wall safe concealed behind a picture or otherwise hidden in the home is a project for the handyman which may pay for itself many times over by thwarting burglars.

If your home has never been broken into by thieves you can consider yourself lucky. Statistics show that in the past year a larceny was committed every 26 seconds and burglaries showed an 8 per cent increase over the preceding year.

Many petty thieves are tempted by householders who carelessly leave cash and jewelry in easily accessible bureau drawers or cookie jars.

We asked the men who built the gold storage vaults at Fort Knox what they would consider the safest place for your valuables — outside of Fort Knox.

"A safe deposit box in your local bank," said safemaker Edwin H. Mosler. "But if you must keep some cash and valuables around the home, anchor a small wall safe in the wall. If room walls are not more than 7 inches thick, the foundation wall of your cellar may be thick enough."

If you can't install a safe in your wall, you might screw or bolt it in a closet or on a firmly anchored closet shelf, filing down the screw heads so they'll have to be drilled out to remove the safe.

A small safe is not just a tin box. It is insulated against fire. Paper begins to char at 350 degrees even without direct flame. So to protect bank books, insurance policies, birth certificates and income tax records, insulation against fire is important.

You can get combination-locked and fire-insulated wall safes for about $15. A safe measuring 12 by 12 inches and 7 inches deep is not difficult to cement into a wall. After a hole is chipped deep enough so the safe door will be flush with the wall, the safe is set with a cement grout. Steel rod reinforcement makes an even more secure installation.

New masonry drills with tungsten carbide tips speed the cutting of a masonry wall.

Polishing Jobs Are Made Easy With New Wax

When wax manufacturers tell you to use less wax, it's news. Professional-looking polishing jobs can be obtained if you don't use too much wax.

Whether you're polishing furniture, floors or woodwork it's wise to follow instruction on the container.

For furniture there is a liquid wax that needs no rubbing. Pour a small amount on a soft cloth; spread it on the furniture. Wipe it off within a few minutes. For surfaces that get heavy wear, such as table tops, use a paste wax, applying a small amount at a time, polishing as you go. A power-driven buffer produces a table finish as fine as the best automobile polishing.

Lawn furniture can be protected from the weather by using a paste, cream or liquid wax, for metal furniture, your best bet is liquid automobile wax.

Special self-polishing waxes recommended specifically for linoleum, vinyl plastic, asphalt tile or rubber tile floors produce best results when used sparingly. For wood floors a liquid cleaning and polishing wax is spread with a long-handled applicator and then buffed.

A new wax for kitchens — for every surface but the floor — cleans as it polishes, removing yellow and brown films that come from cooking fumes, and making refrigerators and cabinets gleam.

Leather upholstery can be preserved with a protective coating of past or cream wax applied with a soft cloth.

For piano keys, use kitchen wax. Never use soap on ivory. It dulls and yellows the finish.

Paste on Wall Helps Hanging Of Wallpaper

FROM THE DAYS of the ancient Chinese, wallpaper has been applied in the same way — first mixing paste, then applying it to the paper, then sticking the paper to the wall.

To simplify things for the Do-It-Yourself trade wallpaper manufacturers are busy changing this procedure. You can get wallpaper pretrimmed and prepaste, ready to be dipped into a trough of water and stuck to the wall.

Now the wallpaper makers have come up with a new quicker. It is ready mixed wallpaper paste to be applied to the wall—not to the paper. You hang the paper dry and it sticks.

There is no mess of mixing paste and sloshing it around the room with a paperhanger's brush. The new paste is applied to the

Kill Termites With Cocktail Of Chlordane

CHLORDANE is an effective weapon against termites. Every gardener is familiar with this chemical as a soil insecticide to fight Japanese beetle grubs and other pests.

Non-injurious to shrubs, trees, flowers or grass, chlordane mixtures are especially suited for use around a house. This chemical is non-inflammable and non-explosive, but must be applied with care to keep it away from your eyes and skin.

The difference between agricultural chlordane and concentrates for termite control is great. While a 5 per cent chlordane dust may prove effective against Japanese beetle grubs, the mixture used for termites is rated at more than 72 per cent.

The chemical is diluted with water according to directions and poured with a sprinkling can into trenches dug around the foundation of a house. The manufacturers recommend the trenches to be 8 to 10 inches deep and about 8 inches wide, sloping toward the foundation. Children and pets must be kept away from the area during the treatment and until the chemical has had time to soak well into the ground.

The Income Tax Man May Come Knocking at Your Door

If a man from the Internal Revenue Service knocks on your door, wanting to know if you filed an income tax return, it's because of a paragraph tucked away deep in the tax law by congress 25 years ago.

It says: "Every collector shall, from time to time, cause his deputies to proceed through every part of his district and inquire after and concerning all persons therein who are liable to pay any internal revenue tax . . . and to make a list of such persons."

When new men were appointed to top internal revenue jobs by the Eisenhower administration, they began rummaging around in the tax laws and they came across the section just mentioned.

So the agency, headed now by T. Coleman Andrews, began making different kinds of surveys around the country. In one place they'd check householders, in another manufacturers or storekeepers. They have been instructed to overlook no one, including gamblers, who might be liable for a federal tax. Already surveys have been started or completed in New England, Nebraska, Denver, Fort Worth and Roanoke, Va. Others will follow:

The law provides a fine up to $500 and as much as two years in jail for interfering with an agent on this kind of survey.

But suppose an agent comes to your home, asking questions about your income tax return, and you (A) slam the door in his face, (B) tell him it's none of his business, or (C) tell him that, if he wants to learn anything about your income tax, he can learn it at the revenue office where you make your return.

When asked about this, O. Gordon Delk, Jr., a top internal revenue officer, said he thought the penalty applied only to people in business, not to householders.

Andrews, of course, hopes his men will get nothing but cooperation. He says he's after cheaters because it would be unfair to people who honestly pay their taxes if he didn't try to find those who don't.

He said: "Preliminary reports indicate that a great many delinquent income and business tax returns are pouring into our field offices, along with the money due. We are causing a lot of folks to face up to their tax obligations for the first time."

Talking Machine Has Human Rival

Some scientists up at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology have succeeded in producing an electrical robot which virtually duplicates the sounds of the human vocal tract.

The idea is to give science a chance to study how man's vocal chords developed and how they operate. This new apparatus, six feet tall, has parts which correspond to all the elements in man's speech-making system: lips, vocal chords, windpipe, etc.

These ingenious fellows really ought to be complimented for their work. But they could have solved their problem much more simply. All they had to do was hire out Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who has the most tireless set of vocal chords in America. Certainly no machine could surpass him in the regular and automatic production of speech.

Can You Find This Bridge Bouer

One of the troubles with Hard Luck Joe is that his feet are far too big for any normal human being. As a result, his feet are always getting in his own way, his partner's way or into his own mouth. In today's hand, for example, Joe held the South cards and managed to get himself beautifully tangled up.

There was nothing much to the play. West opened a trump, and Joe exhausted the trumps in two rounds. He took a successful heart finesse, and took a successful club and therefore would be set six for a loss of 1700 points! No wonder North was annoyed at Joe.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The forthcoming audit of University of Illinois accounts by State Auditor Orville E. Hodge has been postponed until early September.

Hodge said today the audit, slated to start Aug. 15, had been put off to suit the convenience of both the university and his office.

PETER EDSON'S WASHINGTON NEWS NOTEBOOK

Nixon Is Complacent—A Chicken Story—A Bit on Congressional Junkets

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Probably the most placid man in the United States Senate during the mad, midnight wind-up session was Vice President Richard M. Nixon. While Sen. Wayne Morse—who is being called, "The Oregon Trailer"—held up adjournment by delivering his final hour-and-fifteen-minute speech against the Eisenhower administration's "give-away" policies, a reporter who peeked over the press gallery rail saw the vice president was paying no attention to Morse. He was intently reading a little book, later identified as Edwin Markham's "Lincoln and Other Poems."

DRUM MAJOR KEFAUVER

At least one other senator was able to reveal a spark of life on the last day of the session. It was Sen. Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.).

Three little girls, obviously tourists, were waiting for the subway train in the Capitol basement. Each of the girls carried a wooden baton. When the tall Tennessee came along and saw them, he borrowed one of the batons and put on an impromptu demonstration of drum-major-type twirling that astonished everyone on the platform. He did it with his left hand, too.

SHAGGY CHICKEN STORY

In final House debate on President Eisenhower's famine relief bill, Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D., Miss.) raised objections to the Republican proposal for giving away American surplus, freight prepaid. He illustrated his point with this shaggy chicken story:

"A young lady called on a doctor and said, 'Doctor you are a psychiatrist, and I want to talk to you about my brother. He thinks he's a hen. He goes around picking up things with his teeth. He clucks and he cackles and he molts in season and he lays eggs.'"

"The doctor said, 'Young lady, how long has this condition existed?'"

"She said, 'Twelve years.'"

"The doctor said, 'Well, why have you waited this long to call a doctor about it?'"

"She said, 'Doctor, up to now we have had use for the eggs.'"

NO FUN WHEN YOU PAY

Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R., Pa.) tried to organize a congressional recess tourist trip abroad for members of Congress and their wives.

His proposal was that the congressmen should pay all their own expenses, for a change, instead of trying to cook up some excuse for an investigation trip that would saddle the taxpayers with the cost. But no congressman showed any interest in this kind of an arrangement, so the idea was dropped.

SELF-SPONSORED JAUNT

Freshman Republican Congressman Stuyvesant Wainright II, from New York's first district, has been trying to wrangle a trip to Korea during the congressional adjournment, but will probably end up paying his own way.

Representative Wainright's committee assignments are Education and Labor, Merchant Marine and Fisheries. There didn't seem to be anything in those fields that needed investigating in Korea.

During World War II this now 32-year-old congressman commanded First Army OSS troops in France, and won five battle stars.

DOUBLE-CHECK JUNKET

One junket at public expense will be the South American trip to be made by a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee under Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R., Calif.).

The President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and Assistant Secretary of State John M. Cabot have just returned from getting everything straightened out in South America, but the congressman will now see for themselves, and take six weeks to do it.

"COMPETITORS," HE SAYS

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes has rapidly learned all the Pentagon gobbledygook used in government administration, but he still sticks to one expression from his automobile-building days. He calls the Russians, "our competitors," and he wants to know what they've got that we haven't?

YOU'D GET LOST, TOO

There's one other postscript story to come out of Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson's recent picnic for the military top brass, held at Quantico, Va.

It's about the two generals—classmates at West Point—who got together for a private reunion, after having been separated over five years. All this time they had both been assigned to the Pentagon.

ERSKINE

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Patrice Wymore, under an assumed name, is in New York City undergoing medical treatment that may save the life of her expected baby. Even the closest pals of Patrice and Errol Flynn didn't know about her hush-hush flight from Italy to the U.S.

The truth will out sooner or later, so it may as well be told now. Inside reason why Ida Lupino lost no time in filing for divorce is that Howard Duff came home and announced he was in love with another doll.

Corinne Calvet, unhappy with the way her career has been going and unhappier over Zsa Zsa Gabor's plum roles in French flickers has fired her agent and is looking for another ten-per-center.

Ella Logan's attorneys have the divorce papers all drawn up and Ella's legal action against Freddie Finkelhoff will commence when he returns from New York.

Maureen O'Hara's date at the Big splashy shindig tossed by the Herman Hovers in honor of Connie Moore's return to Ciro's was Fernando Fara, a relative of the Mexican adorer whom Maureen is expected to marry.

The we-love-a-reconciliation set is a-smile over the dates that Mona Freeman is having with her almost ex, Pat Nerney. Three in a row at the last count.

Clark Gable, its being grapevined, is discouraged with his career and ready to retire for good after one more flicker. He's still The King, at MGM, but not with a new generation of movie-goers.

SQUARE TOURIST

Graying wolves with young dolls are an every-night sight at Ciro's but Mike Connolly overheard a square tourist beam:

"Isn't it wonderful how many fathers in Hollywood take their daughters out?"

While filming scenes for "The Glenn Miller Story" on location at the University of Colorado in Boulder, Jimmy Stewart used a bedroom in the University Women's Club as a dressing room. A sign on the wall there now reads: "Jimmy Stewart Undressed Here."

The teen-agers' delight, Rock Hudson, is wearing a scar on his cheek for "The Son of Cochise." U-I brass decided he was much too handsome for the Apache Indian role.

Dick Wesson's telling it about a Hollywood playgirl. Her bathroom towels are monogrammed: "Hers" and "To Whom It May Concern."

The reconciliation of the Sterling Haydens begins to look like a wreckoncilation. Betty Hayden had Hollywood's tennis set gulping and looking when she lobbed a verbal outburst at her famous hubby on the private courts of a department store magnate's home.

Now I've heard everything: A French film company is planning a movie titled, "Bikini and Old Lace."

Most dramatic moment at Joanne Gilbert's Mocambo opening came when Donald O'Connor, with Marilyn Erskine, gave the icicle treatment to Gwen O'Connor, his almost-ex, and her escort, Dan Dailey. They've been friendly up to now.

CWAZY 'BOUT DEPTIHES

We've been told by 3-D movie makers that filmmakers are crazy about the new "dephies."

But the other night a Los Angeles theater interrupted an all 3-D program with the sneak preview of a new flat flicker. The wordage on the screen: "You Will Not Need Glasses for the Film You Are About to See," cued the biggest burst of applause I've heard since Betty Hutton's night-club cick.

Overheard at the Balboa Doll House: "It must be love—she'd rather have his arms around her than a milk cow."

Doctors have told Ty Power and Linda Christian to expect a son around Sept. 1. . . . Jane Wyman's blushing over the "young" Jane Wyman on TV. A movie she made in 1938, "Wide Open Faces," just hit the home screens.

The grief of Fred MacMurray over the death of his wife, Lily, weeks afterwards, is the talk of the cast members of "The Caine Mutiny." Fred chokes up and becomes speechless when anything reminds him of his loss.

Alexis Smith and Victor Jory, co-starring in a summer stock tour, are livid about the romance rumors. When the buzz first started during an earlier tour in "Private Lives," Alexis denied it to me vehemently.

What's Right?

That operation or illness you had was a big thing in your life. Every detail was important. But only to you . . . remember. Don't expect your friends and even casual acquaintances to want to hear all about it.

If you want to discuss your health—see your doctor.

STRANGE REQUEST

Jeremy Bentham, English philosopher, who died in 1832, provided in his will that his skeleton be put together in such manner that the figure could be seated in a chair, and that when friends commemorated him, the skeleton be seated and placed in the room where they met.

Have Hubby Read Article For Better Understanding

So your husband doesn't understand you. Well, if you can, plan to beg, borrow or buy, the July 11 issue of Collier's magazine.

Your next move is to leave the magazine beside your husband's easy chair, the one you may wish to give him. You'll find it out, carefully opened to an article called, "How to Live with a Woman," by Margaret Blair Johnston.

That article ought to give your husband a better insight into how to get along with you. Even better than you've been able to tell him as many years as you've been married.

It's not that you couldn't have told him everything in the article yourself. Maybe you could have and maybe you have.

But when a wife tries to explain herself to her husband she usually doesn't get very far.

If he doesn't understand her on his own, he is sure that he is married to a woman no man could understand. So what she tries to tell him falls on ears set to tune out anything he doesn't want to hear.

BETTER IN AN ARTICLE

But finding those same things in a serious article written with a light touch, he may wake up to the fact that the wife he doesn't understand is very much like all other women. And if he doesn't understand her maybe he just doesn't know anything about women.

He may even go a step further and realize that if he doesn't understand women, he may not be as big a prize as a husband as he thought he was.

Anyway, if he doesn't understand you, here's a chance to open his eyes at least a little way.

Get the magazine, and after a good dinner, see to it that it gets left beside his favorite chair opened to "How to Live With a Woman."

EMOTION AGGRAVATES

Many years ago one famous physician who himself had angina remarked that his life was in the hands of any fool who chose to annoy him. In this way, therefore, excessive grief, worry, anger or remorse might have a direct effect on the heart by worsening the results of angina pectoris already present.

Finally, I should like to say a word about the favorable outlook for many angina patients. If the attacks come only occasionally and are not too severe, and the patient is reasonably careful, the outlook is by no means so dark as was formerly believed. Indeed, medical journals contain the records of people who have had angina pectoris for more than 25 years.

Shasta, second largest dam in the world, took 12 years to build, and is exceeded in bulk only by Grand Coulee dam, in Washington.

The several questions contained in this letter are indeed interesting. First, it should be said that a "broken heart" in the sense in which this word is used by Mrs. C. is not recognized as a definite disease by physicians. When someone is said to have died of a broken heart following the loss of a life long mate, some physical cause must be held responsible.

However, it is coming to be held more and more by medical men that worry, excessive grief, or other emotional upsets, have a direct effect on numerous bodily functions. Consequently, if the heart, the nervous system or the digestive tract are already disturbed by disease or injury, they may be harmfully affected by grief, anger or worry, possibly even to the stage of bringing death earlier than it would otherwise have occurred.

The first part of Mrs. C.'s letter describes symptoms which are typical of those of angina pectoris, and for purposes of this discussion it may be assumed that it is angina which is occurring. It has long been recognized that in angina the emotions play a tremendous part in the appearance of symptoms.

When you go to buy peaches—know what to look for. Remember that the delicate pink blush on a peach can be misleading. Many immature peaches have it. Only when the background color of the peach is creamy yellow can you be sure of maturity. Peaches picked before maturity have a green ground color. Such peaches will not ripen satisfactorily. They lack flavor and will shrivel.

The best vinegars for pickling are the old-fashioned cider vinegar and the distilled white variety. The specialty vinegars, such as malt, tarragon and wine have a flavor of their own and do add a fine zest to salad, but they are not recommended for pickling.

Most commercially processed vinegars are stabilized so that they are always the same strength—usually 4 or 5% acidity (or 40 to 50 grain). If you are using an old recipe, remember that many older recipes are based on vinegar not quite this strong.

TOMATO JUICE SPOILAGE
When canning tomato juice don't forget that the juice is no better than the tomatoes you put into it. If your canned tomatoes keep perfectly but your tomato juice spoils, perhaps you should use better quality tomatoes for the juice.

Because juices are strained, softer tomatoes and trimmings are sometimes used for the juice and the firm tomatoes are canned. This is a bad practice as a soft tomato is partly spoiled. It will give your juice an inferior flavor. Also, since spoilage is already started, the product is much harder to sterilize.

Don't be too thrifty when you put the tomato pieces through the sieve. Stop before the skin begins to pass through. The small bits of skin will make the juice less attractive, though they will do no

Does Advertising Sell Merchandise?

If you're a retailer it won't take you long to give the answer. For truly enough it's the retailer himself who sells merchandise.

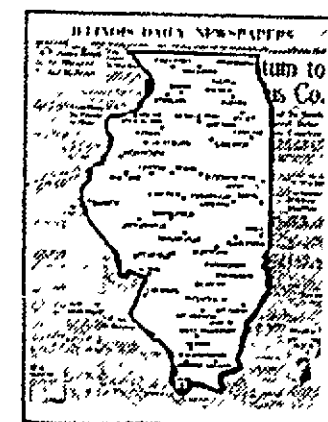

Advertising can create desire, provide buying information and direct customers to the store—but advertising cannot take credit for consummating the sale. The retailer makes the sale—he sells the merchandise at his store from the stock on hand. And that goes for nationally known brands down to private brands.

Sure, the retailer likes advertising to help him move goods from his store to the customer's home. And because "All Business is Local"—he especially likes the kind of advertising help that sends the customer to his store in his own home town. For the only sales that count for him are the ones that ring his own cash register.

That's why many nationally known companies with famous brand names spend more advertising dollars in local newspaper advertising than any other media. They, too, know that "All Business is Local" and so they help the local retailer because he's the fellow who makes the sale—and the more he sells the more they sell.

In Illinois (outside Chicago) there are over 45 local daily newspapers, like this one. Here national advertising is printed with the product information that customers need and the local source of supply.

NOTE: Retailers, Wholesalers and Factory Salesmen: you can help make your sales volume greater. Urge your factory advertising or sales manager to use local newspaper advertising in your territory.

Shown in map at left are the locations of 48 Illinois Daily Newspapers. Ours is among them. These are the papers that bring the news to over one and one-quarter million families in the state. Residents of these trading areas rely on the local paper for local news. Surveys show that these newspapers attain almost 100% coverage in their circulation zones. Consistent local and national advertising in these media make Illinois a profitable territory for the sale of good merchandise. The Illinois Consumer Analysis brochure is available to you on request at our business office.

State Fair Has First Labor Day

Children Win Prizes on Opening Day

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (AP) — Youngsters kept in the forefront of Illinois State Fair events today, showing their prized barrows and beef steers.

Otherwise it was "labor day" at the agricultural exposition — the first time that labor has had a day designated.

Besides showing livestock, the youths also exhibited their skills in accordion contests, flower arranging and home making.

In the Friday opening day for younger children, prizes were taken by small fry ranging from the barely 2 years old to those around 16.

Barbara Jean Hart of Springfield, 2, won a costume prize for dressing as a little Dutch girl in yellow braids and wooden clogs.

Jerry Reed, 15, of Danville, captured the yo-yo competition honors up to semi-year olds.

Newspaper Throw

Thad Sullivan, 15, of Springfield, tossed a newspaper from his bicycle 60 feet to best 125 other newsmen in a throwing elimination for distance and accuracy.

Larry Demoss, of Danville, won the rope skipping contest for children of 10 and older.

The brand new Junior Olympics attracted these among track and field victors.

Broad Jump

In the 11 years and under class for boys, Larry Malaise of Ottawa stood out on the standing broad jump. Tyrone Clapper of Champaign won the soft ball throw. For girls in the same age class, Harriet Martin of Danville won the ball throwing test.

In the upper division of 12 to 13 years, Olivia Sims of Chicago took honors in both the 50 and 75-yard dashes for girls.

Stan Gaul of Ottawa won the standing broad jump. Howard Mitchell of Champaign led the field on the 50-yard dash while Mickey Kay of Lombard excelled in the 75-yard event. Mitchell and Kay teamed with Don Prather of Urbana and Jerry Selgenhour of Champaign to take the 200-yard relay. Karl Walters of Havana was tops in the running broad jump.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT

Closing Dow-Jones averages today and net changes for the week are as follows:

Industrials	275.71	276.74
Rails	104.70	105.75
Utilities	50.88	51.85
Comp. Av.	107.58	108.28

The industrial averages showed very little net change during the week; the action of the rails was disappointing particularly in view of the current optimistic earnings forecast for this year; the utilities continued to show moderate appreciation.

Although the market as a whole made little or no headway this week, a surprising display of strength occurred in the final hour of trading on Wednesday, when a number of "blue chip" stocks advanced on volume. Relatively sizeable blocks of DuPont, General Motors, American Petroleum, Dow Chemical, Monsanto and several of the top oil stocks showed a sudden spurt near the close. While this may have been only some concentrated buying on the part of a few big investors, such as mutual funds, it was none the less an impressive display of strength among "blue chip" stocks. It may also reflect the rather widespread belief that high-grade stocks, on a yield basis, are attractively priced at these levels.

The momentum of general business is still strong and earnings give good promise of holding up the stock market. The recession in business that has been widely forecast is based on the following thoughts:

1. Declining farm prices and income.
2. An easing in industrial production.
3. A decline in construction contracts awarded.
4. Declining automobile production, which as a result of the General Motors fire this week becomes more obvious.
5. Further government economies in order to stay within the national debt limit of 275 billion.
6. Inventories, which may be dangerously high.
7. Debt in several categories, which implies less buying if borrowing ceases.
8. These points have been made repeatedly and are widely known. It would be surprising if the stock market had not discounted them already to a considerable degree.

'Lazy' Bandits Get $11,000 in Chicago Shop

CHICAGO — (AP) — A band of gunmen lazy ones at that, robbed the Vernon Fox Co., a tobacco distributing firm, of $11,000 Friday night.

Most of the money was in change — nickels, dimes and quarters — and weighed several hundred pounds.

The bandits forced five employees of the firm to wheel the bags of money out on dolly trucks and into their automobile.

Then the burglars tied their "helpers" and sped off.

The thieves used an acetylene gas torch to open the firm's safe and Detective John Kennedy said they worked on the safe for an hour and a half before getting it open.

At one point, Kennedy said, they forced an employee to call the American District Telegraph watch service office with directions not to set an automatic burglar alarm because employees were working overtime.

McCarthy Says Woman Saw U. S. 'Secret Code' Stolen

WASHINGTON — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), preparing for public hearings Monday on reported security leaks at the Government Printing Office, says a witness already has testified "a secret code" was stolen there.

Rotary Governor Will Visit Dixon Club on Monday

He identified the witness only as a woman formerly employed by the big government printing plant, but now in business for herself. He said she would be called at a public hearing.

McCarthy quoted her as saying she saw a fellow-employee, still working at the printing office, repeatedly pocket secret material. She described one of these items as a code, McCarthy said.

For the most part the preliminary closed hearings were conducted with McCarthy the only subcommittee member present. He said, however, that Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) will join him for the start of the public hearings.

The three Democratic members of the subcommittee resigned several weeks ago in protest against what they called "one-man rule" after the GOP majority voted to give McCarthy sole power to hire and fire staff employees.

McCarthy, who has been briefing reporters on testimony taken in private during the week, said the woman witness testified "She worked next to this printing office employee, saw him take classified material on various occasions, put it in his pocket and leave with it."

The senator said "She described one thing she saw him take as a

America's Top Military Brass Changes Guard

Pentagon Shift May Change Course of Strategic Set-Up

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON — An old era ends this weekend and a new one begins with the changing of the guard in America's top military command.

It means President Eisenhower is ready to direct a sweeping new study of the armed forces' makeup and missions in relation to the destructive fury of guided missiles and atom bombs.

In brief Pentagon ceremonies today, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, 57, will take over the duties of chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff JCS, succeeding Gen. Omar N. Bradley, 60, who had held the post for four turbulent years.

A few minutes later, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, 58, will become Army chief of staff, replacing 57-year-old Gen. J. Lawton Collins. Gen. Nathan P. Twining, 55, already has taken office as Air Force chief of staff, succeeding Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, 54, retired.

The new Joint Chiefs of Staff will be completed Monday when Adm. Robert B. Carney, 58, becomes chief of naval operations, succeeding Adm. William D. Leahy, 57.

The first big job of the "new team" will be to study the composition and missions of the Army, Navy and Air Force and to take another look at the strategic planning which has guided the nation's defense buildup since the start of the Korean War in mid-1950.

Study Under Way

The recommendation from this study are expected to influence:

1. The size of the Air Force and the makeup of its wings.
2. The role which the Navy will play in strategic air warfare.
3. The missions of each service in the field of guided missiles.

The changeover in command was not a case of President Eisenhower putting his friends in command to replace men who were cool to him—because the old Joint Chiefs of Staff were friends who had served under him in Europe. Bradley, in particular, was close to Eisenhower and was one of his architects of victory in Europe.

But politically, the President pleased a good many Republicans who had come to identify the JCS closely with the Truman administration and the criticized conduct of the Korean War.

State's Attorney Uses Ads, Rewards to Halt Gambling

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — (AP) — A goodly sum of money for the state's attorney to use in the fight against gambling and prostitution became worth $100 in Rock Island county today.

State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran ran advertisements in the Rock Island Argus and the Moline Dispatch offering that amount in rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of violators.

What's more, he said he plans to run similar ads in Quad Cities newspapers once a week for the next three years.

Where will he get the money for the ads and rewards? In a letter to the newspapers, he said that fines assessed against violators caught in this fashion should easily finance the cost of the plan.

Moran said names of informants will not be revealed unless it is necessary to obtain a conviction. He added:

"I have long hesitated to use these ads, partly because of an American aversion to enforcement by informers and partly because such primary police work is beyond the scope of our office.

"However, I have an idea that this offer will wipe out entirely the persistent, petty violations which now exist."

Moran lauded efforts of local authorities and the sheriff's office to suppress violations and said his plan was designed simply "to aid them in harassing persistent violators."

He said city and county liquor commissioners have promised to revoke tavern licenses of violators of anti-gambling laws.

The small ads appearing today cost about $5 each.

Rochelle Maps Million-Dollar School Project

ROCHELLE — A proposed $1,000,000 building project, which would about double the size of the present high school, probably will be submitted to voters in Rochelle township high school district this fall.

Superintendent Leroy Peterson reported Friday that the election will be held shortly after school opens.

The vote had been planned for early this year, but legal problems prevented it being scheduled. The project is expected to provide space for 800 students.

pared to carry the issue to the floor of the General Assembly unless prior agreement is reached before the 60-nation body assemblies Monday for its special Korean session.

A Latin-American source said Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, had indicated the United States would oppose India all the way but might abstain on Russia if the issue came to a vote in the Assembly.

Pro Lions Give Collegians 24-10 Lesson

Layne Hits 21 Passes In 31 Tries

All-Star Passers Connect on Seven Of 27 Attempts

CHICAGO (AP)—It's just as well that most of the college All-Stars move on today to join their respective pro teams now in training. They have a lot to learn.

They found that out Friday night when the Detroit Lions, one of the most determined pro teams in the series history, gave them a football lesson, 24-10.

The Lions left little doubt in the minds of 93,518 spectators at Soldier Field — biggest crowd since 1946 — and uncountable TV-radio fans that they will be hard to stop from repeating for the National Football League crown this fall.

Layne Hits 21 They sheared the All-Stars with the fanciest passing barrage ever seen in the rivalry, gaining a record 339 yards in the air. Bobby Layne, who was not supposed to be feeling up to par, personally contributed 323 yards by hitting on 21 of 31 passes.

The Lions picked up 134 yards on the ground. The All-Stars were virtually stymied, by comparison. With the Lions setting up a new defense with each new opposing quarterback, Jack Scarbath of Maryland (who will be with the Washington Redskins), Dale Samuels of Purdue (Chicago Cardinals), and Tommy O'Connell of Illinois (Chicago Bears) combined for a mere 80 passing yards.

They connected on only nine out of 27.

'Better Than Rams' Meanwhile, Gib Dawson of Texas, Buck McPhail of Oklahoma and Don McAuliffe of Michigan State mustered most of the running power for scrimmage that totaled 107 yards.

"The Lions were one of the best pro teams I've seen," said All-Star Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech. "They were three touchdowns better than the Los Angeles Rams who beat us 10-7 last year. We knew Layne could throw, but we didn't count on such fantastic catching by Leon Hart and Clyde Box."

Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions said he was surprised by the All-Stars' offense and how well they moved the ball, but had expected they would be much better defensively.

10-3 at Half "Condition was our answer," Parker added. "I guess we could have played all night," remarked Hart. "We had only one time out."

The Lions jumped into a 10-3 halftime lead, scoring a touchdown in the first period on an 80 yard thrust in 10 plays. Layne's toss to Hart, who lateraled to Walker, covered 47 yards and was the key play. Bob Hoernschemeyer ploughed the last yard on fourth down.

Walker booted a 10-yard field goal in the second period and Dawson placekicked one from 30 yards for the All-Stars before the half-time gun.

15 Plays The Lions struck for 74 yards in seven plays in the third quarter with Layne sparing Box for 53 yards and finally hitting him for the final nine to score.

Detroit made it 24-3 out at the outset of the fourth, slamming 96 yards in 15 plays with Layne alternating on passes to Hart, Walker and Box. Hoernschemeyer barreled over from the two.

The All-Stars showed signs of life midway in the finale when Jim Sears of Southern California raced 73 yards on a punt return and Dawson sped 17 more to score.

College Star Wants To Play Nearer California Home

CHICAGO (AP)—Shifty Jimmy Sears, brightest of the college All-Stars beaten by the Detroit Lions Friday night, is uncertain about carrying his kick-returning ability into professional ranks.

"I was drafted by the Baltimore Colts but I don't want to play so far from home," said the Southern California halfback. "If I could be traded to one of the California clubs, the Rams or 49ers, well, it might be different."

The 174-pound, 22-year-old Sears was about the only real sparkler for the collegians in their 24-10 defeat at the hands of the professional football champions at Soldier Field.

Sears took a lateral from Fred Burney and returned a kickoff 63 yards in the third period. In the final period he weaved his way through the Lion behemoths for 73 yards on a punt return.

He is expected to be named the most valuable player of the All-Stars.

Judo Jacket Bout Features Lions' Club Wrestling Card

One of Japan's most dangerous judo artists will be introduced to Dixon fans in the Lions Club mat promotion Thursday at the Dixon high school athletic field. He is Tor "The Great" Yamato, who has created near mob scenes since coming to this country a year ago.

Police were needed recently in Chicago after his judo chops had almost crippled a local boy. Yamato meets Carl Engstrom in a judo-jacket bout, augmenting the Yukon Eric-Reggie Lisowski headliner. The jacket affair will find the warriors adorned in the white frocks which are regulation uniforms for judo men. By gripping the sleeves or collars, the opponents can throw one another off-balance in preparation for judo strokes. There are no regular pin-falls. It's a case of surrendering. That's how Yamato wrestled back home, and Engstrom, a sturdy Chicagoan, has challenged him to a match at his own game.

The opener will be Doran O'Hara of Ireland versus Jerry Woods of Arizona. The program starts at 8:30 p.m.

C. J. Doane To Coach at Steward

C. J. Doane, a native of Covington, Ind., has been hired as coach at Steward high school for the coming year. J. M. Thompson, school superintendent, has announced.

Doane will replace Bob Drain, who resigned after one year at Steward to enter the insurance business at Rochelle.

The new Steward mentor who played basketball throughout his college career at Eastern Illinois State college, was recently discharged from the Marine Corp where he served for the past three years.

In addition to his coaching duties, Doane will have charge of boy's physical education and will teach social science.

29 Goose Eggs

BOSTON—(AP)—Bob Porterfield, Washington's strong-armed right-hander, will attempt to stretch his string of 29 scoreless innings considerably when he pitches against the Red Sox during today's rain-created doubleheader.

Duke University's grid coach Bill Murray is a member of the American Football Coaches' Committee on Ethics.

Hint Irish, MSC On NCAA Mat

CHICAGO (AP)—The National College Athletic association's powerful policy-making council begins calling some disobedient members on the carpet today and, from all reports, there's no picking them for size.

Powerful Notre Dame and Michigan State, the latter winner of the national football championship a year ago, are reported to be among the three institutions up for disciplining. The other is said to be Arizona State at Tempe.

Their alleged offenses: Violation of the athletic code, particularly as deals with recruiting of talent.

Not Identified The NCAA has coyly declined to identify the three members whose cases have been laid before the council by the membership committee, an investigative group.

The names of Notre Dame, Michigan State and Arizona State at Tempe emerged from hotel lobby talk but were bantered around by men close to the NCAA operations. Several official sources named them, but declined to be quoted.

These sources say the punishment in any of the cases is not expected to be too severe. It may be a case of telling the offenders to put their houses in order, or else, permitting them to continue normal athletic relations in the meantime.

Notre Dame's troubles may stem largely from the notorious Charlie Stuka incident. Stuka, a standout freshman fullback from little Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., showed up on the Notre Dame campus last January and Trinity officials immediately yelled "robbery."

Ruled Ineligible Embarrassed, Notre Dame told Stuka he was ineligible to play for the Irish. Whereupon, Stuka went back to Trinity.

Not Since 1920 Have Sox Played This Well

Edge Closer To Yankees On 7-0 Win

Homers Surprise Milwaukee as Cubs Gain 11-4 Victory

By BEN PHILGAR Even if the Chicago White Sox don't catch the New York Yankees, Manager Paul Richards should rate a rousing cheer for his 1953 successes.

Hidden in the hoopla of the pennant struggle is the fact that the current edition of the Sox is playing better ball than any Chicago American League entry since 1920. That was the last time the Sox finished as high as second in the flag chase.

Richards took over a sixth place team at the start of the 1951 season. He finished fourth in his first year and third last season.

Lead Tribe by 5 In beating Detroit 7-0 Friday night the Sox maintained their five game margin over third place Cleveland. While the Yankees—6½ ahead—appear out of reach, the Chicagoans are a solid bet for second.

Richards, a catcher in his playing days, has received a tremendous boost from two fellows who used to pitch to him and now pitch for him—Billy Pierce and Virgil Trucks.

Trucks came to the White Sox in mid-June from the St. Louis Browns. He's won 10 games and lost two for Richards and has an overall record of 15-6.

Wins 16th Pierce won his 16th game Friday night against Detroit, the most he's ever won in the majors. It was his third straight shutout and ran his string of scoreless innings to 34-2-3.

Both Pierce and Trucks are prospective 20 game winners, such a rarity in recent White Sox history that they haven't had one since Thornton Lee in 1941.

Pierce, a small fastballing left-hander, struck out four men in winning his fifth straight. He's fanned 142 so far—tops in the league and only two short of his previous all time best.

Washed Out Rains in the wake of the Atlantic hurricane washed out half of the major league program Friday night. New York at Philadelphia and Washington at Boston in the American League were postponed.

So were Pittsburgh at Brooklyn and Philadelphia at New York in the National.

Cleveland outlasted the St. Louis Browns 8-7. The Chicago Cubs battered Milwaukee 11-4 and Cincinnati edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 in 11 innings.

Home runs ruled Milwaukee in Chicago as the Braves slipped eight games behind the league leading Dodgers. The Cubs hit four into the seats including a pinch hit grand slam by Bill Seena, his first in the majors.

Edie Mathews hit No. 37 for the Braves in the first inning.

If Dancer Wins He'll Move Up as Fourth Wealthiest

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—There is no earthly reason why Native Dancer, when this day is done, won't be the fourth leading money winning horse in the history of the king of sports.

The spectacular Dancer, beaten only once in a glittering career, tackles four so-so rivals this afternoon in the 64th running of the Travers Stakes, and if all start, the value will be $27,500.

The horse going under the finish line first at the end of a mile and one quarter gets $18,500.

Should he win, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's flashy 3-year-old champ will hike his total winnings to $677,420, moving him from fifth place past Assault, the 1948 triple-crown champion who retired with $657,470 in his bankroll.

The Travers, oldest stake race in the country, will be televised (CBS) at 4-4:40 p. m. CDT.

All-Star Tilt Sets Meigs Plane Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—Flying football fans Friday helped set a new record for plane movements at Meigs Field, the lakefront airport within hailing distance of the Soldier Field gridiron.

Officials attributed the day's record of 260 plane movements to the arrival of fans for the college All-Stars-Detroit Lions tussle at the neighboring stadium.

The previous record of 191 plane movements was set during last summer's Republican National Convention.

Amboy Girls, Grace Gain Wins In Exhibition Church Softball

The Amboy Peaches racked up a 43-13 victory over the Bethel girls in a Church league softball exhibition game last night at Reynolds field.

In the second game, Grace church handed Four Square a resounding 21-6 defeat in a non-league game.

The Peaches wasted little time in settling the issue in the girls game. The Amboy girls romped to a 7-0 lead at the end of the first run as a tune up for things to come.

In the second inning, they scored 11 runs and capped it off with a 16 run surge in the third. Both teams scored nine runs in the fourth inning. Bethel earlier scored in pairs in the second and third.

Grace jumped off to a 4-0 lead at the end of the first inning and seemed to have done all the scoring as the count remained there for three innings. After scoring one more in the fourth, Grace racked up five in the fifth inning to ice the contest.

WHICH MILLER, SIR

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illini Football Coach Ray Eliot will have to exercise care when he calls out "Miller" during practices this fall. There are three on the Illinois squad.

Pierce Sights on Johnson's Scoreless Pitching Record

DETROIT—(AP)—Not many pitchers approach Walter Johnson's fabulous pitching records but Billy Pierce, 26-year-old southpaw of the Chicago White Sox is taking dead aim at one of them.

Following his 7-0 whitewash of the Detroit Tigers Friday night, the speedy left-hander boasts a sparkling string of 34½ scoreless innings.

That's 21½ behind the major league record set by Johnson in 1913. Toiling for the Washington Senators, the "Big Train" went 55 innings without yielding a run.

Three Straight Pierce has three straight shut-outs to his credit. Two more, plus a brief relief job, and he can tie or pass Johnson's 40-year-old mark.

He still has a long way to go to his manager, Paul Richards, thinks Pierce is pitching the best ball of his life.

"He's just reaching his peak," Richards said. "He's a willing worker and doesn't say much whether I use him as a starter or in relief."

"He's been using the same stuff as in the past," Richards added. "But now he's using it with more savvy. His fast ball is his best pitch. That's the one that strikes them out."

Strikeout Lead Pierce leads the league with 112 strikeouts and needs only three

SPORTS WHAT'S THE SCORE By Norm Follow

ONE THING THAT MAY PROVE interesting about the wrestling card at the athletic field Thursday is the Judo-Jacket match between the Great Yamato and Carl Engstrom.

At least it will be different from the ordinary run of the mill grunt and groan events that take place across the country.

THE OBJECT OF THIS SORT OF AFFAIR is not to pin the opponent but rather to get him off balance in preparation for judo chops.

ENGSTROM, A CHICAGO STRONG BOY who has challenged Yamato at his own game, had better be up on his stuff or have a good rehearsal before the match or he's liable to get killed. That judo stuff is pretty brutal, they tell me. I don't know about the kind Yamato uses.

ENGSTROM, BY THE WAY, we are told used to be a dancer. Some swatch, but it probably helps him considerably because with his theatrical background, he must certainly know what it takes to please an audience.

In this judo stuff, though, it may help him with his footwork in keeping away from Yamato. Fancy footwork is reportedly an essential part of judo art.

I HAVEN'T DETERMINED YET whether this is sport or not, but in a note from Secretary of State Charles E. Carpenter, we learned that Ray Zuend, 610 Park Row, will drive his 1908 Lambert automobile to the Illinois State Fair where he will compete with several hundred antique car enthusiasts who converge on the capital for the 1953 Illinois Antique Automobile meet, Aug. 22.

A parade of all the old timers will be held just before the start of the annual 100 mile big ear race.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Bird Watching

By AL McCLANE Fishing Editor

The bird watchers are trying to fish your trout flies again, only this time the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service has sent out a notice on the proposed ruling, making the Act of July 17th, 1952 (66 Stat. 755), soon effective.

Now I have nothing against people who want to lean over the back fence with a pair of binoculars to study the antics of a goldfinch, and I am no longer surprised when Audubon's scouts paddle up for a close look at my duck decoys, but this time I'm declaring open war on them.

Important to the law is paragraph 1518 of the Tariff Act of 1930 which prescribes a general prohibition against the importation of the feathers or skin of any bird whether raw or processed, and whether the critter was wild or domesticated.

Subparagraphs provide that there may be entered or withdrawn from the warehouse, for consumption in each calendar year, for use in the manufacture of artificial flies, not more than 5,000 skins of gray jungle fowl and not more than 1,000 skins of mandarin duck.

They also list a half-dozen Oriental pheasants which the fly trade and the millinery industry can split up, the total here being 45,000 skins. There are by conservative estimates at least 250,000 fly tiers cluttering up the kitchen table and even if we discount the quantity of feathers available—what good are they?

The law, incidentally, doesn't apply to the importation of fully manufactured artificial flies. This means the real benefit will be to foreign fly tiers playing their trade in the British Isles and Japan. Some British flies are good, their salmon flies especially, but most of their floaters are soft hackled and useless for our fishing.

Japanese trout flies are the world's worst and if it comes to a showdown between buying inferior foreign goods and fishing with live bait, I'll go dunk a worm. My favorite fly tier has nursed me through many snafu periods when the hatching flies had green tails, violet legs, yellow wings or some such important distinction and now the poor man will have to send his three kids out to sell pencils.

It's no secret that fly tying is a very low paying profession and there are darn few capable people in the business. As the proposed law reads now, teal, duck plumage, kingfisher, partridge, woodcock, starling, snipe, grouse, coot, and many other birds commonly imported into this country will be unavailable to both the pro and the hobbyist.

Inasmuch as the director of the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service asked for an opinion from interested citizens, I think the bird watchers should devote more time to the ivory-billed Grampus, and leave the game fowl to us hairy-chested lads who now number about 17 million in paid-for fishing licenses.

Speak up, gents! Your March Browns, Lead Wing Coachmans, Hares' Ears and other veteran fish charmers are tottering on the brink.

MAJOR LEAGUE STARS (By The Associated Press) PITCHING—Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, ran his string of scoreless innings to 34-2-3 in winning his sixth shutout, his third straight, 7-0 over Detroit. BATTING—Luke Easter, Cleveland Indians, hit two home runs, each with a man on base, as the Indians shredded the St. Louis Browns 8-7.

State Makes 2 New Public Areas Available to Hunters

SPRINGFIELD—Two new public hunting areas will be available for Illinois residents this fall as a result of transactions completed this week by the Department of Agriculture.

One of these is a 3,600-acre pheasant area in Clinton county northeast of Carlyle, leased from private land owners.

The other is a waterfowl shooting spot known as Stump Patch area, eight miles north of Grafton on the Illinois river. Use of this federally-owned region was obtained by permit from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Leasing of these two tracts brings to six the number of pheasant areas under control of the department and adds a seventh waterfowl shooting location.

Write for Permit

Announcement of the leases was made today by Glen D. Palmer, director of the department, and Joe B. Davidson, game management division superintendent, whose men will have direct charge of the shooting areas.

Requests for applications for permits to hunt on the state's public areas will be accepted by the department between Sept. 1 and 25. Requests received prior to and after these dates will not be considered, Davidson said.

Hunters may apply for a permit application by writing a letter to the Permit Office, Department of Conservation, Division of Game Management, 303 E. Monroe street, Springfield, Ill. Application blanks will be returned to those filing requests together with complete instructions as to the proper method of filling out the blanks.

Other Areas
Other pheasant hunting areas available on a permit basis under department control include Chain O'Lakes, Green River, DesPlaines, Iroquois County and Belle Rive.

Under new legislation passed by the 68th General Assembly, the daily usage stamp will cost pheasant hunters obtaining permits $4. The waterfowl usage stamp fee remains at $2.

The Stump Patch duck hunting area near Pere Marquette state park will be open for hunting this fall, but will not be included in the areas requiring permits in advance.

Hunters will be permitted to use the area on a first-come, first-served basis, Davidson said today. Permits will be available at the gate upon payment of the daily usage fee, he added.

Rest Days
As on all of the permit waterfowl areas, there will be no hunting on Mondays and Fridays, rest days for the birds. At Batchtown, another first-come, first-served area only a short distance west of Stump Patch, but on the Mississippi River, shooting will be permitted daily.

There is one other first-come, first-served duck hunting area. It is Sanganis, further up the Illinois. There, too, shooting will be banned Mondays and Fridays.

Other duck areas where permits must be obtained in advance by application to the department include Sparland, Woodford County, Rice Lake and Anderson Lake, all located along the Illinois valley, the first two above Peoria and the others between Peoria and Beardstown.

Miss U. S. Saves Man

CHICAGO (U) — Myrna Hansen, 18-year-old Miss United States in the 1953 Miss Universe contest, leaped from a sailboat into Lake Michigan Friday to rescue a companion from possible drowning.

Albert Latorra, 22, of Chicago, a student at St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., was knocked unconscious and into the water when struck on the head by the boat's boom.

Miss Hansen, a Chicagoan, held Latorra's head above water until a Coast Guard rescue boat arrived. Latorra was not hurt.

40 Apply for 'Switch' Post

OSSINING, N. Y. (U) — The executioner at Sing Sing prison resigns today and about 40 persons, including one woman, have applied for his post.

Joseph Francel, 57, is quitting after 14 years and 137 executions. The new executioner, to be appointed by State Commissioner of Correction Edward J. Donovan, will be the sixth in the 62-year history of Sing Sing's electric chair. The standard fee for an execution is $150.

Warden Wilfred L. Denno has not identified any job applicants. But he did say that no woman would be considered.

Weather Bureau Gives Outlook For Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON (U) — The Weather Bureau said today its 30 day outlook for mid-August to mid-September calls for temperatures to average below normal in the Southeast, Northern Plains and Great Basin and above normal in the Northeast, Southwest and Gulf Coast.

In the remainder of the country temperatures are expected to average not far from normal the bureau said.

Rainfall is expected to exceed normal in the Northern Plains, Upper Lakes, Southern Plateau and along the Atlantic Coast. Subnormal amounts are indicated along the West Coast and in a broad band from Texas northeastward through the Lower Mississippi and Ohio valleys to the Lower Lakes. Elsewhere near normal amounts are predicted, the bureau added.

House Trading Technique Is Being Studied

WASHINGTON (U) — Government and private housing authorities are experimenting in a half dozen cities to see whether a used car trading technique works with houses.

Federal Housing Administration Commissioner Guy T. Hollyday said Friday his agency, in cooperation with the National Home Builders Association, is advising builders and home owners in test areas how to make property more valuable and attractive, so it can be disposed of quickly when families buy new houses.

The tests are being conducted in Columbus, Ohio; Hartford, Conn.; Washington, D. C.; Shreveport, La.; Oklahoma City and New Orleans.

Castle Says War Veterans' Ruling Inconsistent With Law

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — Attorney General Latham Castle has advised the Illinois Civil Service Commission that its present rule for listing Illinois war veterans eligible for state civil service jobs is "inconsistent with the Civil Service Law."

Enforcement of this rule, Attorney General Castle's opinion said, "would be rank injustice to men to whom all of our owe so much."

Under provisions of the Civil Service Law, the opinion pointed out, a veteran taking a civil service examination must have 5 points added to the grade he scores on the examination. If offered a position which he is required to decline because he volunteers for or is called to military service, his eligibility must be extended until the end of his military service. Upon application within 3 months after such termination, his name shall be placed on a civil service reinstatement list.

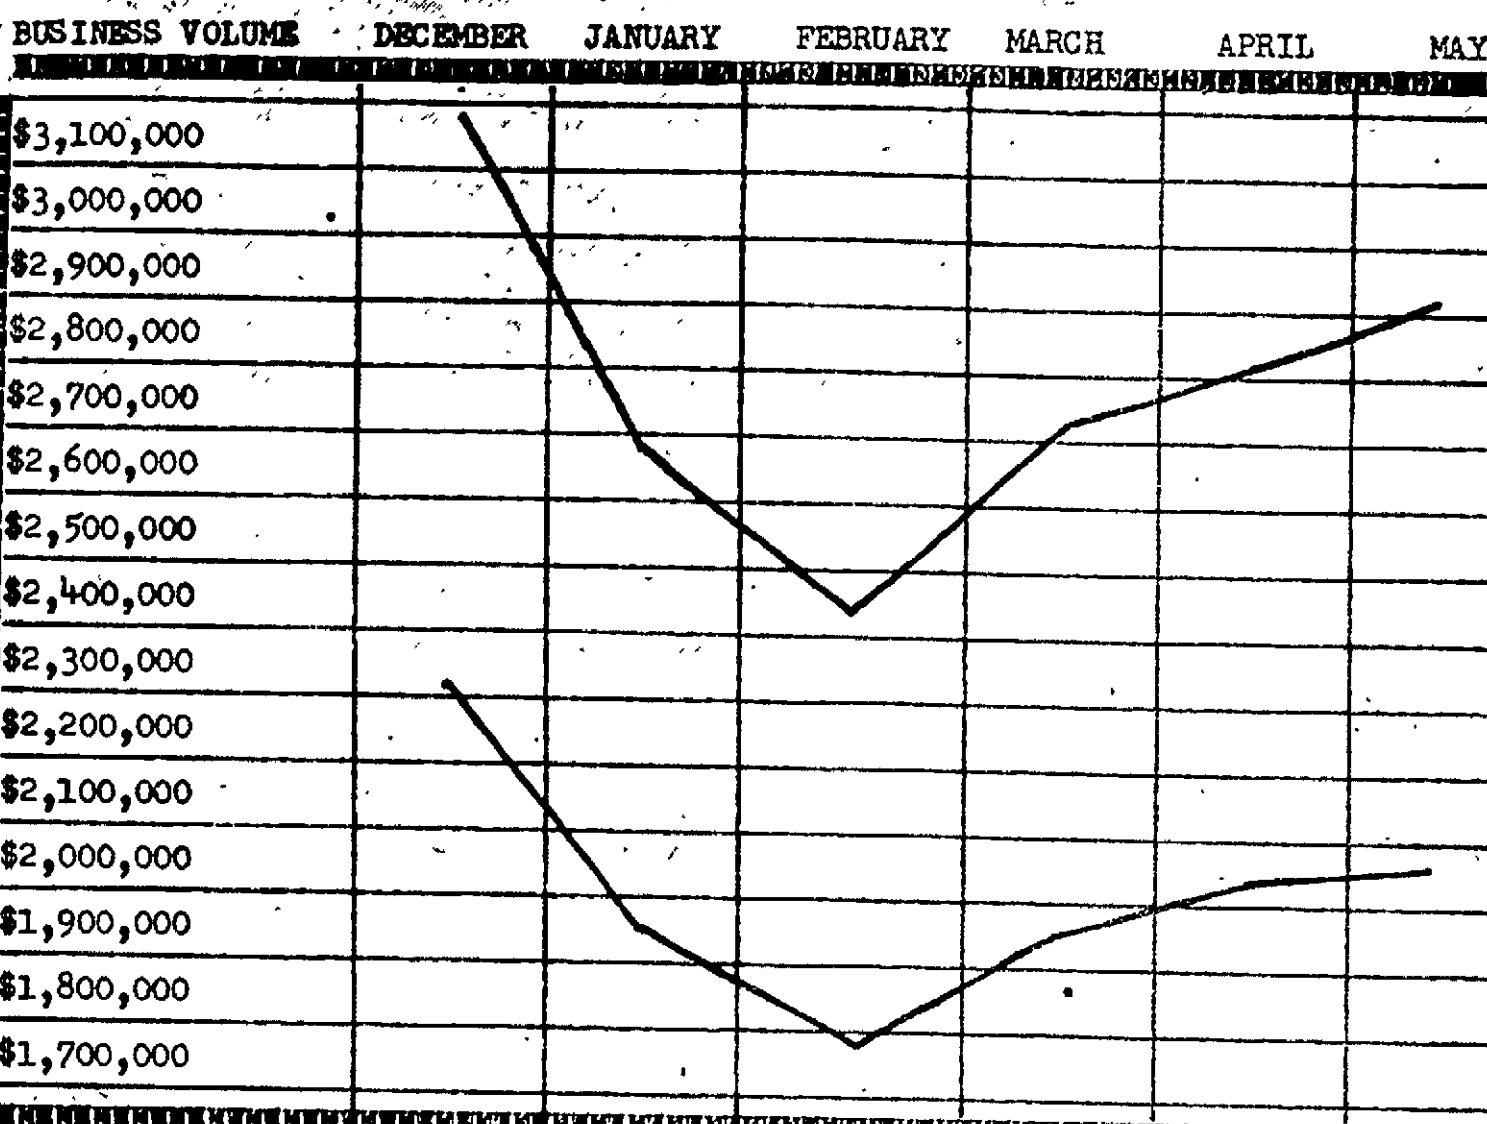

The Illinois Service Commission, Attorney General Castle was told by Maude Myers, president of the Commission, has a rule by which such veteran eligibles are reinstated according to the date order of offer of employment. The alternate way by which reinstatement lists can be made is according to original title and seniority of certification, called the grade method. Holding that the grade order should be used in making reinstatement listings, Attorney General Castle's opinion states that "to interpret the Civil Service Act by such rule in such a manner as to deprive veterans of the benefits plainly intended for them and granted to them by the General

Lee County Business Volume--First Six Months

THE ABOVE CHART shows the volume of business done in Lee county and Dixon combined (top line) and that done in Dixon alone (bottom line) during the six months starting Dec. 1, 1952, and ending May 31, 1953. As noted in the chart, it is evident that Dixon's business volume tends to control the overall course of Lee county prosperity in that approximately two-thirds of all Lee county sales are made in Dixon. The ratio of business in Dixon as compared with countywide totals is somewhat parallel, with county and city business rising and falling almost proportionately. The peak of business volume during the last 12 months was reached in December with Dixon claiming $2,318,271 of the $3,183,217 worth of business carried on in the county. The chart shows a gradual decrease in total sales until a low is reached in February when the volume in Lee county dropped to $2,166,703.50 and to $1,793,187.50 in Dixon. However, since February, the rise in Lee county and Dixon business is pronounced. The data for the above chart was furnished by the state department of revenue, Springfield, and is based on sales tax figures.

Eliminates Dashes From Morse Code

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — An officer at Marine Corps headquarters here proposes eliminating dashes from Morse code.

They're just a waste of transmitter power, Capt. Nils B. F. Forsberg said Friday in announcing he's devised a code composed entirely of dots.

Forsberg said he has copyrighted the all-dot code and submitted it for Navy tests. He claims it saves 25 per cent of transmitter input power.

One-Minute Reviews Describe New Books at Dixon Library

How to Play Your Best Golf All the Time, by Tommy Armour. The title seems self-explanatory.

It's Not All in Your Mind, by H. J. Berglund & H. L. Nichols. These authors aim to prove that many present medical theories are too prone to believe that the mind is the source of the major part of man's illnesses.

Rebound Summer, by Sally Carrighar. Nature at its best in the hands of an authority who also loves words and their power to convey feeling. Not since "The Sea Around Us" has a book presenting the facts of nature been so realistic and absorbing. The animals and the country of Alaska are more real to the reader than many personal experiences.

Where Main Street Meets the River, by Hodding Carter. Hodding Carter, militant voice of the New South, recounts his travels along the way he has helped lead the South in this, his autobiography.

The Spirit of Liberty, by Learned Hand. This is one of the "Notable Books of 1952" selected by the American Library Association. It is the collected papers and addresses of the Judge. The introduction and notes are, supplied by Irving Dillard.

Popular Mechanics Aviation Album, by Edward L. Throm. A popular history of aviation. Plastering Skill and Practice, by Felicien Van den Branden. A practical book on a technical skill.

Our Virgin Island, by Robb White. Amusing, personal account of the author, who with his wife, made a home on a small island in the Virgin Islands group. With almost no money, they succeeded in their project.

Paths of Loneliness, by Margaret Mary Wood. A carefully reasoned study of loneliness as one pattern which makes people psychopathic.

The Sea and the Jungle, by H. M. Tomlinson. The keen eye, exceptional vocabulary, and satiric mind of H. M. Tomlinson make this book one of the most satisfying travel books written by a contemporary author. The voyage, the subject of the book, occurred in 1910 and carried the author deep into Brazil, up the Amazon and its tributary, the Madeira River. The author served as purser for 1 shilling per month!
